The Beginnings of Congregation of Jesus of Mary

Claudine Thevenet was born in Lyon when the French Revolution unleashed a reign of terror, soaking the city of Lyon in bloodshed. True to her Catholic education, she was comforting, consoling and providing for the starving and wounded soldiers of both armies. However, providence had other designs for her. At the tender age of 19, she had the misfortune of witnessing the brutal execution of her two younger brothers, which had an imprint on her heart, not the horrifying execution, but the last words of her dying brothers- 'Forgive, Claudine, as we forgive'. These beautiful words were an echo of words uttered by Jesus Christ from the cross.

Claudine too now chose to fulfill the dying request of her younger brothers, such was the hard school in which the future foundress was initiated; and it was here the foundations of a biding faith in ever-living providence, utter selflessness, Christ like charity and sympathy with others, were laid. Her life was now for the poor and needy of every category and the outcasts of society. Fr. Andre Coindre was a constant guide to Claudine. The day 31st July, 1816 saw the association of young ladies in Lyon in honour of the Sacred Heart of Jesus. After two years of Christian charity, on 31st July 1818, there was a Divine Call, 'Come Follow me', words spoken so long ago on the shores of Galilee, now re-echoed in her heart and Claudine resolved to leave her home. Thus, on that day was conceived the ideal which is the aim of the Congregation of Jesus & Mary 'to form souls for heaven by means of a truly Christian education'. Her method of imparting education was simple: 'prevent faults' she would say, and the deviations of the pupils by vigilance, so that you will not have to punish them. The best leader is not the one who punishes, but the one who knows how to prevent the greatest number of mistakes. In 1818 while forming the religious order of young ladies Claudine took the name of Mary St. Ignatius- the Patron Saint of Ignatius of Loyalla. Mother Mary St. Ignatius devoted herself completely to her Congregation. The numerous trials she met and overcame, strengthened her soul but undermined her bodily strength and on 3rd February, 1837 she breathed her last. Her dying words, 'How Good God Is' are a testimony to the work of the Jesus & Mary Congregation, how it started and where it has reached today. 'One woman, one orphan, one loom'-surely a humble beginning, yet from such a tiny mustard seed has blossomed a giant tree whose branches have spread far and wide embracing all nations, races and cultures.

How Good God Is...

St. Claudine Thevenet

St. Bede- The Patron Saint of St. Bede's College

St. Bede

St. Bede was probably born in 673 A.D. At the age of seven, his parents placed him under the care of Abbot Benedict for his education and upbringing. But when the monastery of St. Paul was established in the year 682, St. Bede seems to have been transferred to the care of its first Abbot, Ceolfrid, and to have remained a monk there for the remainder of his life.

St. Bede was made a deacon at the age of nineteen by Bishop John of Hexham. Since canon law laid down the age of twenty-five as the norm for admission to the diaconate, Bede's scholarship and devotion must have been recognised as exceptional for him to have been presented by Abbot Ceolfrid six years early. He was advanced to the Priesthood by Bishop John eleven years later. From the time of his receiving the priesthood until his fifty-ninth year, he worked to compile extracts from the works of the venerable Fathers on holy scripture, and to make commentaries on their meaning and interpretation. During all this, St. Bede was gathering materials for his History which he completed in 731.

St. Bede's History belongs to his latter years, due to which he has richly earned the title 'Father of English History'. For St. Bede was not content to compile a bare chronicle of events and dates, or to restrict himself to biography as his predecessors had done. He set himself to examine all available records, to secure verbal or written accounts from reliable living authorities, to record local traditions and stories, to interpret significant events, and in short, to compile as complete and continuous a history of the English Church and people as lay within his power. He was the first to conceive or attempt such a formidable project and posterity acknowledges his pioneer work as a remarkably successful achievement. St. Bede's industry and scholarship are generally acknowledged, but his most significant achievement lies in his inspired ability to select and integrate the vast mass of facts and traditions that he had gathered, into a single framework. When we consider St. Bede's limited facilities and resources, it is clear that his achievements are unique.

St. Bede passed away on the evening of 25th May, 735 A.D. The principal and lasting memorial of the first of the English historians is the inspiration of his holy life and the value of the great work that he bequeathed to posterity.

ST. BEDE'S COLLEGE ANTHEM

1. Our LAMP Shines bright with radiant hope,
For those who live in dark despair,
We are a light for those who grope,
For those in need, we care and share.

Chorus :

NON NOBIS SOLUM this aim is ours,
Our work is NOT JUST FOR USALONE,
By LAMP, BOOK and by LILY FLOWERS,
Our love for God and neighbour is shown.

2. Our BOOK is faith that mountains moves,
Our faith gives strength to those who doubt,
Our knowledge day by day improves,
Our wisdom streams relieving drought.
3. Our LILIES are the lives we lead,
To beautify our land with love,
Lives fragrant, like the great St. Bede,
With fruitful grace from God above.
